Relief payments to hit $2 million

Payments for drought-stricken crops are expected to amount to approximately $2 million dollars here this year.

Pat Maynard, Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service director for Randall County said Tuesday that already the ASCS has paid farmers $613,538.98 under the disaster payment program.

This is a sharp increase over the $236,038 paid last year for failure in all crops.

Last year, the federal program paid $158,729 for feed grain losses here, $65,995 for wheat and $11,314 for cotton.

Wheat payments for this year will be completed about the end of October, Maynard said, but it will probably be the first of next year before payments in feed grain and cotton are completed.

The federal program compensates farmers for revenue lost from crop failures beyond the farmers' control.

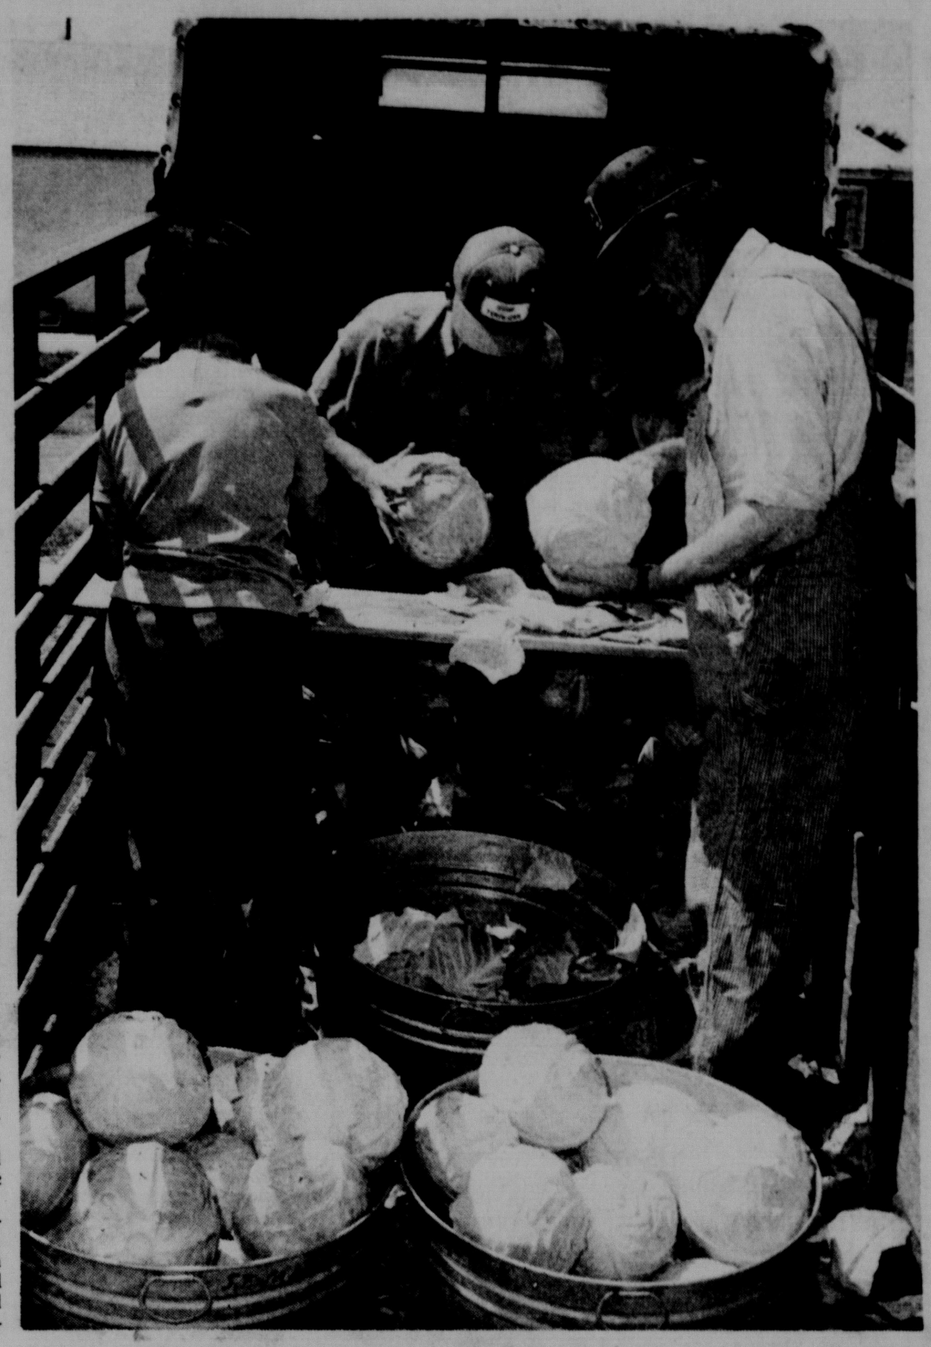

This year, the area has received less than half the normal rainfall. Since January, only ten and a half inches of moisture have been recorded here. The drought that began last fall has been virtually unbroken.

Maynard said that dryland wheat has been the hardest hit. It was so dry that some farmers didn't have enough moisture to even plant a crop.

Yields in the irrigated fields appear to be average or even above average, Maynard said.

But there are less fields under irrigation here than in the past, he said.

Maynard said it would be late winter before final payments for crop failures would be made.

From cabbage to 'kraut

Umbarger Community residents were cutting and salting fresh cabbage this week to make sauerkraut for the annual German Sausage Festival which the community has sponsored for a number of years. This year's festival has been set for November 14 and is open to all area residents.

Scary, says Mayfield

Buffs to meet Shockers

The West Texas State University football team will open their 1976 schedule at 7:30 p.m. this Saturday before an estimated crowd of 13,500 people at Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium against Wichita State, which beat the Buffs 13-7 last year.

"Big, tough, and scary," were the words Head Coach Gene Mayfield used to describe the week ahead.

Last year two WT fumbles deep in its own territory set up Shocker field goals that proved to be the winning margin. Quarterback Sam Adkins put the game out of reach with a one-yard plunge with just over four minutes remaining. WT avoided being shut out completely when Quarterback Tully Blanchard hit Halfback Robert Mayberry with a 26-yard pass with 1:21 left.

The Buffs will try to avenge last year's loss with an offense that returns eight starters and led the Valley in rushing offense in 1975. The West Texas State ground attack — which will be run by Quarterback Tully Blanchard with Halfbacks Robert Mayberry and Anthony Dogan and Fullback Bo Robinson in starring roles — averaged 344 yards on the ground during the final six games last year.

Wichita State will counter with an offense that gained 443 yards of total offense in its opener. Sam Adkins a 6-3, 214 pound senior All-American pick, is the boss hoss of this unit.

"Adkins seems better than ever," commented Mayfield. "He's completely on target with his passing, and he's avoiding the rush better."

Defensively for the Buffs Mayfield has stated, "We are just going to have to line up against Wichita State before we will know what we have. After we play for a quarter or two it will be easier to tell."

At the linebacker spots the Buffs will go with Jeff Nunn, a 6-2, 225 pound senior, Scott Braden, a 6-0, 215 pound sophomore and Larry Spears a 5-9, 185 pound junior.

Patrolling the secondary will be Bryan Carr, Mike Rychlik, Vic Hayes, and Tommy Mills.

Wichita State's defense allowed Northern Illinois only 231 total yards in their opener, which they won 21-0. The defense will be led by tackles Ted Vincent and Dennis Dedrick along with noseguard Clem Jankowski.

"On defense I am impressed with their overall play," said Mayfield. "Their two defensive tackles and the noseguard are excellent players. Their secondary is sound, and they just dominated NIU all night."

Gas cost charge at a standstill

A request for dismissal of a hearing asked by Pioneer Natural Gas before the Railroad Commission Tuesday probably puts the city right back where they started on the fuel adjustment clause.

Canyon joined with other cities this week to agree to a dismissal, city manager Glen Metcalf said.

The cities contended that the Railroad Commission had no jurisdiction to rule on the amount of gas cost pass through, he said, and the Railroad Commission agreed with them on that point.

Pioneer had sought the hearing to rule on the correctness of the firm's purchase methods for natural gas.

The cities "have no dispute with the correctness of the company's cost of gas as reflected by the contracts and exhibits submitted," according to a Pioneer statement.

Metcalf said the only dispute now is the amount of gas cost pass through.

"The amount is questionable," Metcalf said Wednesday. "Should they be able to pass every bit of the cost or whether they should absorb part of it. There should be an element of risk for the company," Metcalf said.

Metcalf also said that if Hereford, which has been fighting the gas pass through rate for months, takes further action now, the city will probably back them.

Wednesday, Hereford city manager Dudley Bayne said he did not know what the next move would be.

Hereford did not agree to a dismissal under the conditions Pioneer asked, he said. The hearing was continued Tuesday to another date, he said.

"We did not agree to a withdrawal under the terms they specified which was that the costs and contracts were correct," Bayne said. "We don't know if they are correct."

He said he saw the Pioneer request for a continuance as a face saving gesture on the company's part and expected Pioneer to withdraw its request of a hearing without any stipulations.

Bayne said he was still hoping to have Hereford pass an ordinance limiting the cost of gas pass through. Cities continue to have regulatory power over gas utilities, he said.

Rowdy comedy to be staged

'Scapino', a rollicking comedy that recently ended a run on Broadway, will be staged next week at Canyon High School.

The rowdy fare is the first CHS production this year. Directed by Carroll Killingsworth, the play will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday in the high school auditorium.

J. P. Allen, a junior who has appeared frequently in CHS productions, plays the title role of Scapino and Royal Brantley, also a drama veteran, plays the co-starring role of Sylvestro.

Set on the water front of Naples, the comedy revolves around the trials brought to the two fathers by their sons.

The play was just released for amateur production last year.

Tickets will be 50 cents for elementary school students, $1 for junior high and high school students and $1.50 for adults.

New kindergarten gets good grade

The new, open kindergarten facilities got a good report card from teachers Monday night at Rex Reeves open house.

While there were a few D's — for disadvantages — the teachers overall gave the concept good marks.

There was some community criticism of the open classroom facility last spring and a church-sponsored kindergarten opened this fall partly to offer a conventional self-contained classroom.

The new facility, renovated by high school building trades classes last year, is housed in the rear wing of the school administration building, which was the old hospital building. This separates the kindergarten and early childhood development program from the rest of the Rex Reeves campus.

And this separation is one of the disadvantages, one teacher said.

"The main weakness is we don't have their regular PE and music teachers, so I know our program is not as strong there," said Mrs. Virginia Bonifield.

"Also, the children don't get to go to the library. Next year it's harder on them because it will all be so new."

The large room is divided by furniture and cardboard folding screens into several separate interest centers. Each of the three teachers has a place for separate

Quibbling court puts off raises

County Judge Woody Pond Monday lost a part-time secretary and had proposed pay hikes for his office challenged Monday afternoon in a four-hour session of commissioners court fraught with quibbling.

Part-time secretary Sherrie O'Neal was reassigned from the county judge's office to the juvenile office. Juvenile Probation Officer Harold Mann complained that he could not get his secretarial work done through an arrangement under which he shared a part of the time of the part-time secretary.

Mann was Pond's assistant when Pond was county juvenile officer.

Commissioners hit a snag on setting salaries when it was discovered that some department heads had requested more than the six percent increase allocated each department by the court at its Sept. 3 meeting.

The court stipulated that the overall six percent could be used in granting raises at the discrepancy of the department head.

The district attorney's office and the district clerk's office exceeded the allocation in requesting salary hikes.

After discussing this for more than an hour, the court decided to postpone setting salaries until Administrative Assistant Carroll Wilson reworks some schedules.

Judge Pond reddened as Mann told the court he could not depend on getting his secretarial work done through the arrangement with the judge's office.

He asked Mann to step out in the hall with him. When they returned, they announced that the secretary would move to the juvenile office and work under the supervision of Mann returning as much as possible to the judge's office to help out there.

In other business the court agreed to enter into a contract with Kids Inc., for that group to furnish recreational services for Randall County youth for $7,700. Canyon Kids Inc., will be included.

The court also voted to provide $1,826 with like amounts to be provided by the city of Canyon and South Randall County Hospital District to put with a $8,520 grant for the purchase of an ambulance.

Metropolitan Ambulance Service has agreed to equip the ambulance and leave the equipment in it if the firm's contract for ambulance service with the three entities is ever negated.

A group of young farmers appeared before the court to seek its help in forming a noxious weed control district. They are primarily concerned with bindweed which they say poses a threat to county agriculture.

If the group can obtain 50 signatures of qualified people within the district the court is empowered to call an election on the forming of such a district.

The district would have the power to levy a 3-cent an acre tax

Dean House, guilty of theft, gets probation

Dean House, 39, 1707 Brookhaven, was given four years probation Friday and ordered to make restitution after pleading guilty to theft charges.

House, formerly a Canyon banker and civic leader, specifically was charged with theft of property over $10,000.

District Judge George Dowlen also fined House $400 and ordered him to pay off $25,000 at the rate of $539 a month.

District Attorney Randy Sherrod said charges against House arose over a fertilizer deal and an exchange of checks and money orders with a Kansas firm.

Sherrod said House is alleged to have received $27,500 from the Heiman Company of Wichita, Kan., for fertilizer. He said Heiman wired the money to the Bank of the Southwest in Amarillo for House.

The fertilizer was never delivered, according to the district attorney.

Sherrod said House used Heiman's money to cover insufficient checks at Dimmitt. Then on May 27, 1975, according to Sherrod, House gave Heiman a check for $27,500 which was returned marked insufficient funds.

PTA may drop national ties

A committee to investigate the benefits of belonging to state and national PTA associations was appointed after discussion at the Rex Reeves PTA meeting Tuesday.

Dianna Cook was named chairman to review benefits and investigate the procedure needed to withdraw from state and national organizations. A report is due at the next meeting Oct. 11.

Members of the committee include Bob Parks, Mike D'Uva, Sandy Morgan and Sandra Wait.

Bulletin

Owens Corning Fiberglas Corporation Wednesday confirmed that it has reactivated engineering for its new plant in the Canyon area.

The sprawling plant, designed to house 500,000 square feet of floor space, is scheduled to go into production in 1979.

It initially will employ 500 people.

Stan Collins, public relations man for the industrial giant, made the announcement in a telephone call to The News early Wednesday afternoon.

Fowler Blauvelt, the firm's senior vice president, said the facility here is designed for expansion. He noted that it is engineered to permit growth to a capacity of 235 million pounds of fiberglas reinforcement per year.

Cablevision on its way here

After nearly two years of trying to fulfill FCC requirements, a cablevision system is on its way to Canyon.

Installation is expected to begin next month and completion is planned for the first of next year, owner T. D. Austin of Amarillo said Tuesday.

Austin first filed application for Cablevision of Canyon in November of 1974. It has taken since then to complete all the legal requirements for a system. He received his approval from the FCC in July.

The cable system will bring six television channels to residents within the Canyon city limits, Austin said.

In addition to the local network stations, channels 4, 7, and 10, the cable will bring Ft. Worth-Dallas channels 11, 13 and 39.

Channel 13 is the Public Broadcasting system channel and 11 and 39 are independent stations.

There will also be one channel available for local public school and WTSU use and one for community use, Austin said.

A weather scan and two FM radio frequencies are included, he said.

At least 90 per cent of the system will be installed during the first year. This stipulation is part of the franchise agreement with the city commission.

Monthly rates will be $7 for the first outlet and $1.50 for each additional outlet.

Austin asked that prospective customers mail in an application with their name, address and phone number for him to judge the likely response. His address is Cablevision of Canyon, Box 238, Canyon, 79015.

Tires taken in burglary

A burglary at Co-op Elevator No. 2 Sunday night netted $3,782 worth of tires.

The theft was discovered Monday morning by George R. Penn, an employee, who noticed a window ripped off. The window, covered with plywood, was torn into, according to police. The theft is believed to have occurred between 4 p.m. Sunday and 10:30 Monday morning.

Fingerprints and photographs were taken at the scene.

More frosh come to WT

Reversing a pattern set the last several years, freshman enrollment increased this fall at West Texas State University.

A total of 1819 enrolled as freshmen this semester, compared to 1793 last fall, according to figures compiled by WT registrar, Dr. Donald Cates.

For several years, freshman enrollment declined at WT, Cates said.

Enrollment of women was up this year also, Cates said.

A total of 3234 women signed up for classes this fall, compared to 3177 last year for a gain of 57 students.

At the same time, male enrollment dropped 195, from 3524 last fall to 3329 this semester. The male-female ratio is nearly 50-50.

City to join fight of phone rate hike

Canyon will join a Texas Municipal League attempt to intervene in the rate increase asked of the new Public Utilities Commission by Southwestern Bell.

A deadline for entering the case was Sept. 13. Commissioner J. Pat Stephens of Canyon, on the TML committee that will spearhead the fight, said Wednesday he has not heard yet if the cities will be allowed to participate.

The League now intends to assess member cities at three cents a person, based on 1970 population.

It is still doubtful whether the cities can intervene in the hearing, city manager Glen Metcalf said.

"The PUC has finally taken the power away from local governments," he said.

In a procedural rule adopted last month by the utility commission, the right to intervene is to be decided by the commission itself. This decision is set for Sept. 20.

Canyon and the other cities may end up spending time in court, Metcalf said, testing the legality of the rule itself.

The PUC is a new state regulatory body that became effective Sept. 1. The Southwestern Bell rate increase was filed the same day.

The increase amounts to almost $3 million and will, if approved, increase subscriber rates, intra-state long distance calls, pay phone tolls and institute a charge for directory assistance.

Exam registration set

High school juniors need to register now to take the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test (PSAT/NMSQT) in October.

Kenneth Ringo, CHS guidance counselor said the exam would be given here Oct. 19, in conjunction with testing throughout the nation. The exam will be given on that day only, he said.

The test is good practice for the Scholastic Aptitude Test required by most colleges for entrance, Ringo said. But, more importantly, the PSAT is the only preliminary test for National Merit Scholarship awards.

The test measures verbal and mathematical aptitude, two abilities important in doing college work.

Ringo said he has only about 60 tests and will need to order more if a large number of juniors register for the exam.

"If we know we're going to need more, we can order more tests. But if they wait until the last day to come up, they'll just be out of luck," he said.

About a dozen CHS juniors have signed up, he said. Test fee is $2.75.

World peace observance slated here for Sunday

The Canyon Baha'i Community will join others across the United States in observance of World Peace Day on Sunday, September 19.

The Baha'i faith is an independent worldwide religion with followers in more than 300 countries and territories. It originated in Iran in 1844 with the founder, Baha'u'llah, coming from a family of Persian nobility.

Forage growth down

Forage production on native grassland at Buffalo Lake is down this year.

Compared with grass produced in 1975 production the lake range is down an average of 26 percent.

The Soil Conservation Service working with Paul Ferguson, refuge manager at Buffalo Lake, assisted with the grazing program.

Their conservation plan includes fencing and providing livestock water in six pastures or grazing units. The vegetation on the pastures is composed of spring and summer growing grasses native to the area. Their conservation plan calls for a six months deferment from April 1 through September 30th each year. The pastures are grazed each year from October 1 through March 30th.

The stocking rate for the six months grazing period is based on the actual amount of forage on the ground. Annually in September, the SCS assists Ferguson in inventorying forage production on the refuge grazing lands. This is done by clipping the grass on a square meter and weighing in grams and converting to pounds per acre. From this data Ferguson sets his stocking rate.

Ferguson has been recognized by the Palo Duro SWCD, the Soil Conservation Society of America, and the Society for Range Management for his excellent work in managing native plants.

Soil Conservation Service, district conservationist Bill Casteel suggests that ranchers in Randall County inventory their native grass production and try to balance the number of livestock with their grass production.

Bureau to conduct survey

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey in this area during the week of September 20-27, to determine the extent people have been immunized against selected diseases, Percy R. Millard, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Dallas, announced today.

The immunization survey is conducted throughout the U.S. every year and provides information on immunization against measles, influenza, polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, rubella, and mumps. The information is needed for administration of health programs geared to disease prevention. These health questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U. S. Department of Labor.

Personal information supplied in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.

Interviewers who will visit households in this area include: V. Dean Clancy of Amarillo and Frances M. Cheek of Amarillo.

Nan Yoder certified graphoanalyst, discusses handwriting analysis with two WT students. Dana Rogers and Glen Blanscet, both from Pampa, submitted samples which Mrs. Yoder analyzed.

Handwriting tells much

By BEVERLY McCARLEY

"Handwriting is brainwriting, it registers every impulse the brain has," according to Nan Yoder, certified graphoanalyst. "If you are going to be happy and productive, you have to take a gut level look at yourself."

Mrs. Yoder will be instructing a course in Graphoanalysis this fall at WTSU. The class is sponsored by the Student Activities Council.

Graphoanalysis is the study of the individual strokes of handwriting to determine character and personality of the writer. Through the formation of strokes, spacing of letters, pressure, slant and depth of writing, the trained observer can distinguish the spurious from the real.

According to Mrs. Yoder, Graphoanalysis is not pseudoscientific or of the occult. It is a scientific method of personality assessment based on research that was conducted over a period of more than 50 years. It has been tested through both empirical and clinical processes, and is currently being further validated by statistical studies, both within and without the framework of institutions of higher education.

Graphology, the study of lettering, began in the 1600s in Europe. It was accepted first in America as a game or joke. Seventy years ago, M. N. Bunker established a theory of studying handwriting based on his findings that no students wrote alike. From this theory and the ideas of one man, the International Graphoanalysis Society in Chicago, Ill. was established. Today, this institute is the only school which certifies graphoanalysts.

Mrs. Yoder has been a certified graphoanalyst for nine years. She said that she began taking correspondence courses from the society to learn more about herself. Today, she does private analysis for persons. She has taught three courses at Amarillo College and will be teaching at AC and WTSU this fall.

Mrs. Yoder became a certified Question Document Examiner for criminal court proceedings on forgery last November. She has participated in the Amarillo court system in several such cases.

In personal analysis, Mrs. Yoder says that she prefers to deal with good points and character strengths of her clients. People do not focus on their positive points, rather they are pessimistic about themselves, according to Mrs. Yoder.

Mrs. Yoder feels that handwriting is more personal than fingerprints because it cannot be altered. Handwriting can disclose honesty or deceit, pride or sloth, will power or lack of it, conservatism or wastefulness, and potential, but not necessarily, performance.

Employers use graphoanalysis for successful employment of and proper placement of personnel in business and industry. Mrs. Yoder has conducted seminars for credit executives, consisting of presidents of national companies and credit managers from across the nation. She has spoken to civic groups on the study of handwriting and what it reveals.

In general, more women of all ages than men of all ages are more receptive to the concept of handwriting study, according to Mrs. Yoder. "Young people seem tremendously interested in knowing more about themselves."

Mrs. Yoder's course instructions will be Tuesday nights from 7-9 p.m. in the Activities Center. The classes will be held for 10 weeks. Canyon residents are invited to enroll for the course. The fee for the instructions will be $30 for local residents and $28 for WT students.

Enrollment will begin this week at the information desk in the Activities Center.

WE THINK YOU ARE LOOKING AT US!

In a recent study by a well-known research company it was determined that you, the public wanted to find a family pharmacist whom you could relate to on personal terms. You know, like in years past, where the local pharmacist was someone with whom you could talk.

We try very hard in our pharmacy to maintain just that type of relationship with our customers (we think of you more like friends.) Whoever is on duty filling prescriptions is always available, really wants to say a friendly hello, is ready to answer ethically any questions, and to help in any way that is possible. Come in and see for yourself.

"A GREAT MANY PEOPLE ENTRUST US with their prescriptions, health needs and other pharmacy products. We consider this trust a privilege and a duty. May we be your personal family pharmacy?"

PUBLIC NOTICE

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

GENERAL ELECTION NOV. 2, 1976

NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (S.J.R. 49)

Repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution, S.J.R. 49 amends Section 49-c of Article III of the Texas Constitution to provide for and authorize an additional $400 million in Texas water development bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the members of each house of the Legislature for such water development purposes as the Legislature may prescribe.

The amendment contains a specific prohibition against the use of state funds for the development of water resources from the Mississippi River and also requires that before any single water development project may be undertaken requiring the expenditure of more than $35 million in bond proceeds, it must be approved by resolution of the Legislature.

The amendment removes the constitutional requirement that certain revenues must be used to retire water development and water quality enhancement bonds and removes the constitutional interest rate limit on such bonds.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing an increase of $400 million in the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the legislature; amending and consolidating provisions of Sections 49-c, 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution; and repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution."

NUMBER TWO ON THE BALLOT (H.J.R. 99)

H.J.R. 99 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to increase from $100 million to $200 million the aggregate principle amount of Texas water development bonds which may be issued and outstanding by the Texas Water Development Board to provide grants and loans for water quality enhancement purposes as established by the Legislature.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"A constitutional amendment to increase from $100 million to $200 million the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued for water quality enhancement purposes."

Federal money scarce locally

Federal money doesn't jingle very loudly here.

Slightly more than one fourth of the total state government revenues are received from the federal government, a study on the impact of federal aid on state and local governments prepared by Bob Bullock's comptroller staff found.

But locally, federal funds make up a very minor part of governmental funding.

Revenue sharing, one of the most popular of the federal programs with local officials, has built two public buildings here.

The Randall County annex and the city complex were both funded out of revenue sharing receipts.

This program, which is ending in December, gave $211,147 to the city under a five year program.

Refunding the revenue sharing program is under discussion in Congress.

Much of the federal revenue comes into the county in disguise. Many of the grants are regional and while the city and county benefit, the rest of the Panhandle does also.

"We benefit every day," city manager Glen Metcalf said. He pointed out that the new ambulance to be shared in the county will be purchased primarily with federal money. Law enforcement equipment and radios have been funded by federal grants. Water treatment and sewer construction have been built with federal grants.

A grant received last spring paid for two and a half blocks of street paving, with the city picking up the tab for the remaining half block.

The city is now completing application for federal and state money for the parks program.

The county government taps federal funds even less.

Manpower money, designed to help students earn money for college, has been largely unspent here the last three summers.

There have always been more Manpower jobs available than there are applicants.

About $30,000 in various state and federal programs has been included in next year's county budget for salary assistance, county auditor Bill Tirey said. For example, the investigator for the district attorney's office is paid with federal funds.

The schools receive a somewhat larger portion of revenue from the federal purse than local governments do.

Various federal programs will add about $65,716 to the school income next year. This money pays for a variety of activities, such as grant to set up an honors program for high school seniors begun here this year.

This is a drop from last year of $76,494 in federal funds.

In addition, the schools receive about $4,000 each month to offset cafeteria costs.

Farmers as a group received the largest hunk of federal money. Last year payments for crop losses amounted to $236,038 and $48,147.38 was added for cost sharing in conservation projects.

This year, the U.S. Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service expects to pay more than $2 million in disaster payments to farmers here.

on farm land within the district to finance district activities. Officials of the district would have enforcement power.

"We halfway represent these people," declared Commissioner Dee Griffin, expressing concern.

"What do you mean halfway?" Judge Pond rejoined.

"Well, we do represent them," said Griffin somewhat weakly.

This exchange set the tenor of the afternoon with barbs being passed between the judge and Griffin and John Fulgenzi, GOP members of the court.

The court heard a somewhat unfavorable report on City Fire Inspector Jerry Lehnick's inspection of the courthouse.

The top priority discrepancies can be corrected in a week, according to Wilson. "I'll get the janitor right on them," he declared.

Wilson told the court that Heritage Woman's Club voted 16-0 in favor of a proposition that Randall County join with other entities in construction of a detention facility for status offenders.

As of next September, such offenders — juveniles — can no longer be jailed. Wilson and Judge Pond were instructed to investigate the matter.

Wilson was instructed to write a legislative proposal for a 1 percent sales tax for unincorporated county areas and another proposal for the same county tax for the entire county. Commissioners see the sales tax as a means of alleviating ad valorem tax.

Joint purchasing with other entities was discussed briefly. Wilson said he thinks some money can be saved in this manner.

The court voted to join the National Association of Counties with dues of $675 a year.

Enrollment. .

Cates said. There are 3329 male students enrolled this year and 3234 female students.

Last fall, males outnumbered females by 347 students.

The graduate school also lost students, dropping from 1204 last fall to 1144 this year.

Total enrollment this fall is 6564 compared to 6701 last year.

Cates pointed out that the differences in enrollment in the last two years is slight and that drawing any conclusions from the numbers would be invalid.

"About the only thing you can say looking at those figures is that the freshman enrollment is up and we have more women this year," he said.

Cates said the decline in graduate enrollment was expected because GI Bill benefits for the so-called Cold War Veterans expired this June.

DeShongs tell infant's birth

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry L. DeShong of 1906-B Brazos in Amarillo announce the Sept. 11 birth of a son, Jerred Lee, who weighed 5 pounds, 10 ounces and measured 18 inches in length on arrival at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The DeShong family includes an older daughter, Laura Lee, age 5. The father is a welder with Carl W. Stewart and Company.

activities with her own class.

The room arrangement, however, places two of the classes very close to each other.

"Peggy and I are down here in this corner," Mrs. Linda Kay Baker said.

By scheduling indoor and outdoor activities, they can avoid interferring with each other, she said, but wider spacing would help.

Another classroom is being prepared in the old hospital building and one of the classes will probably be shifted there, curriculum director Vondean McGregor said.

Mrs. McGregor said she is delighted with the new facility.

"This is one of the showplaces of the Panhandle," she said.

The room is light, colorful, well-equipped and beautifully decorated.

Many of the problems expected by the teachers failed to materialize.

"I thought there would be more confusion than there is, Mrs. Bonifield said. "The children have learned the rules what they can and can't do, very quickly."

Because of the large number of students, discipline has had to be more structured this year, Mrs. Peggy Trosper told the parents.

"We have had to be stricter than we would have been in the self-contained classroom," she said.

With about 82 students in the room at the same time, the teachers have had to insist on less noise, replacing materials after they are used, keeping chairs pushed under tables and other rules to keep the place orderly.

The children have accepted the rules very well, she said.

Mrs. Trosper said the room has drawbacks for an easily distracted child.

"For the easily distracted child, it's not easy. But it's real good for the child that is not easily distracted because he learns to tune out all the other noise," she said.

The room is ideal for large group activities, the teachers said. The window shades make films shown to the classes much easier to see, they said.

"Before, we'd try to squeeze all three classes into one room and kids would be sitting jammed up against the walls and some of the windows weren't shaded," Mrs. Baker said. Because films are used several times a week, the new facilities are important pluses.

Like the rest of Rex Reeves, the kindergarten is crowded. Classes have from 26-28 students, well over the normal 21 per classroom.

A day at kindergarten begins with free play time, Mrs. Trosper told the parents.

"If you walk in on us, you might think it is just a big mess, but it does have its purpose," she explained.

Next, the youngsters separate into their different circles for roll call, the pledge of allegiance and games.

They have several periods for math, language or PE and also have an outside playground time.

Eagles battle Caprock for tied season tilt

The Canyon High School football team, which is now 1-1 on the year, will play their third game of the season at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow night at Dick Bivins Stadium against Amarillo Caprock.

"Our workout Monday wasn't as good as our workout last Monday if that is any indication as to how we are going to play," said Head Coach Deane Wright. "We worked out hard last Monday with a lot of spirit and played well last Friday night. We worked out poorly this Monday with very little spirit. I don't know if that is any indication or not, I hope we will get ready to play."

The Eagles are coming off an impressive 26-6 thrashing of Floydada in which they rolled up 382 yards on the ground and gained 28 first downs.

Caprock fared equally as well last week drubbing El Paso Andress 30-8.

"I think defensively they will be stronger than Lubbock Monterey but offensively they are not as versatile and I don't think they can do as many things as well as Monterey," commented Wright in reference to the other AAAA team the Eagles have faced.

"They do have a real fine fullback in Dennis Skelton and they do have a good runner in their tailback Johnny Lozano. He is not a sprinter but he does have speed. He is probably faster than Gary Ward. He is a fine open field runner and a pass catcher; they will throw the ball to him some."

Sketlon and Lozano combined for three touchdowns in the Andress victory with Skelton scoring on a 65 yard trot and Lozano running for scores of 41 and 9 yards.

"They are bigger than us," continued Wright. "They are not substantially bigger but probably overall they are bigger. We are going to have a hard time defensing them, I really am concerned about our defense.

"We are going to play them just like Floydada," summerized the head coach. "We will try to establish a running game and throw when we can."

Kenya-Amarillo combo

A Kenya-Amarillo punch in any sport at any place would seem as uncommon as Ronald Reagan running for president on the Communist ticket, but that is just what West Texas State University cross-country coach Bob Kitchens will be going with when his runners travel to Plainview to compete in the Wayland Baptist College Invitation to be held Sept. 16.

Three of Kitchens runners — John Chemaringo, Gabriel Boit and Joseph Kemei — hail from the distant country of Kenya while the other two — Bert Torres and Gary Thomas — have their homes just a jog down the Canyon E-Way in Amarillo.

"We are very pleased with the people we have on the cross country team even though they only number five," said Kitchens.

"This is an awful slim cross-country team depth wise but quality-wise it is very deep."

In view of his Kenyan representatives Kitchens says, "Joe and John are expected to have a great year. Gabriel has never run cross country before but we know he has quite a bit of talent and he will help us out a lot.

As for the home preppers he converses, "Bert Torres, a freshman from Amarillo Caprock has really been doing a terrific job for us in workouts and hope he can do just as well in the meets because he has really looked good. Gary Thomas is in his third year with us and even though he is really a quarter-miler we expect him to help out too."

Kitchens trump card will once more be ace Joseph Kemei who has won countless honors over the years and is gearing up for his third year of competition.

"I think Joe expects to have a great year," commented Kitchens. "In the past he has had some ups and downs and some physical ailments and he is really looking forward to this year."

Football nursery open for WT games

A football nursery is being provided at the First United Methodist Church for anyone of the community desiring to have children cared for during home games of the West Texas State University football team.

The nursery opens 45 minutes previous to game-time and remains open for 45 minutes following the game. For more information about fees, etc, contact Mrs. Walter Kirkpatrick, 655-3180, nursery director.

Fair not only for 'kids'

By FARRIS ANN MORRISON

NEXT WEEK IS the Fair, and I guess I look forward to it just as the kids do. Being a part of the preparation increases my enthusiasm, seeing all the lovely painted porcelain I'm in charge of, very CAREFULLY in charge of.

Come by and see our exhibit in the corner of the Commercial Building. We have some very talented artists in this area, and china painting is not one of the more usual of familiar art forms.

BEFORE I GET started on the Gene Howe news itself, Ernestine Harp, secretary at the school, sends a plea for help as some of the working mothers need sitters for their children after school.

If you can help, call Ernestine during school hours, please.

HERE ARE SOME more new families to the district, several from Amarillo, and we welcome them: Ruel and Mary Leveridge from Amarillo, Kenneth is in the sixth grade; Dick and Theresa Carthy come from Lakewood, Colorado, with Michael (second grade) and Angel (third); Norman and Alma Cunningham from Spartanburg, South Carolina, John is in the third, Shanda in the sixth. Ted and Celia Fancher are from Amarillo, daughter Andrea, a third grader; also from Amarillo are Michael and Donna James, Michael (son) is a third grader. Hoyt and Pat Lawson and Tracey, in the third grade are from Parker, South Dakota. Their daughter Michelle is a first grader. Roy and Glory Jones moved here from Gastonia, North Carolina with Ginger, in the first grade. From Pinellas, Florida are Randall and Barbara Simpson; son Jason is in the first grade.

CARL FARMER, 12, BROKE his arm this summer while riding horseback in Cushing, Oklahoma. It is now out of the cast, thank goodness. This is nothing new for Carl; Karolyn told me not only was this the second go-round for that arm, but the other arm has been broken, as well as a knuckle. Hang in there, Carl!

* * *

CLAUDIA CALL, A librarian at Ridgecrest, trimmed a plant and herself recently. She suffered a severe cut, but is doing fine now.

MARGARET DAVIS IS Gene Howe's bulwark as far as Girl Scouts go. Last weekend her girls (troop 113) were at Camp Kiwanis. The girls attending were Tammy Wilcox, Tonya Thompson, Denise Morgan, Paula Bennett, Shellie Camouse, Marlo Pruitt, and Connie Hornsby. Margaret was aided by Mary Wilcox, Verna Davis, and two Senior Scouts, Sherry Manning and Clair Davis.

Besides the usual hiking and cook-outs, each girl painted a T-shirt with liquid embroidery paints. On Sunday, church services were held by the girls themselves.

Tuesday, the 4th, 5th, and 6th grade Girl Scouts will begin work on their own troop badge.

Each troop can set up its own requirements for one badge. These girls chose bowling and will be at Western Bowl after school "rolling a few".

A PLAYGROUND CASUALTY: David Ray has a broken arm, but is doing fine, considering.

* * *

MRS. MILLER HAS a student teacher, Dorinda Newton; Mr. Lawless has an "intern" principal, Jim Davison. While I was in the workroom today, he was repairing the duplicating machine, so he's made to feel at home!

* * *

MARK McGILL, GLORIA McGill's son, was married Friday, Sept. 10, in a home wedding. His bride is Rhonda Sims of Amarillo.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. Jim Martin are new to our area from Lufkin. Their daughter Christi is in the first grade and son Mike in kindergarten.

PTA AREA COUNCIL met Monday. Of interest to all of us is the Clothing Room.

Two facets we can participate in are (1) if you know of any family who can use this service, please contact Dot Ford or Mr. Lawless at the school. (2) if you have donations to make, contact Jewel Brown at the Amarillo School Administration Building.

Every type of clothing is needed, especially coats, sweaters, even underwear. Troyce Mulherin can also fill you in, as this is her particular job on the Council board.

HAVE A GOOD week.

Don't forget the PTA open house at Gene Howe, September 27, 7 p.m., and October 11, 7 p.m. Grade levels for each night will be announced next week.

Square dancers having lessons

Canyon Capers Squaredance club met Monday evening for their regular dance at the Bull Barn.

Randy Costley did his usual fine job of calling. He had called a dance at Panhandle last Saturday night.

The new square dance students are progressing very well on their lessons.

The club dances every Monday at 8:30 p.m. and visitors are always welcome.

Highways film for Lion group

"Texas Highways — in Trouble?" was the title for a film program presented for Canyon Evening Lions Club Monday evening.

The informative program was presented by representatives of the Texas Highway Department and demonstrated the need for additional future funding to keep highways of the state in repair and under construction as presently planned.

Kozars have infant son

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Kozar of 1607 N. Fairfield, Amarillo, announce the Sept. 8 birth of a son, Travis, at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The baby boy weighed 8 pounds, 2½ ounces and measured 21 inches at birth. He has an older brother, Jason, age 4.

4-H

By PAUL SAMMONS
Assistant County Agent

The big thing coming up will be the Tri-State Fair, Sept. 20-25.

We have 18 steers, one heifer, two barrows, two lambs, and seven capons. I am real pleased with the number of entries and am looking forward to a fun and working week.

We had quite a lengthy 4-H Adult Leaders and Council meeting on August 26.

The Randall County 4-H Achievement Banquet was set for Oct. 7, 1976 and guest speaker will be Bedford Forrest.

The 4-H leaders and council heard a report from Greg Hinders on the State 4-H Congress held in Austin; leader training at Brownwood; National 4-H club week Oct. 3-9, 1976; writing method demonstrations; and report on the 4-H livestock feeders from Mrs. Lee Osborn.

The 4-H Adult Leaders will be meeting quarterly on every 3rd Thursday at 7:30 p.m. All leaders and parent-leaders are urged to attend these meetings. There were 20 present for the August 26 meeting.

Mrs. Wendell Trammell is fixing to lead a project many of your 4-Hers might be interested in. She wants to take a project group to help beautify the Community Center here in Canyon.

I feel this will be an excellent opportunity to get involved in a community project.

I urge all of you to take part in this excellent program. Contact Mrs. Wendell Trammell for any further details.

Dr. John McNeill, area beef cattle specialist, will be here Oct. 1, 1976, to visit on the steer and heifer projects.

As you probably know Dr. McNeill is a widely noted steer judge and a super asset to you steer and heifer feeders. I am quite proud to have access to the advice and knowledge of Dr. McNeill at the local level.

Steer feeders, I hope you have your "neck ropes," feeding and watering from pans and buckets; one mile exercise per day, washing once a week, and have been tying your steers up to get them used to it. This isn't busy work, it will help you at the fair.

Have a nice week!

Relief payments to hit $2 million

Payments for drought-stricken crops are expected to amount to approximately $2 million dollars here this year.

Pat Maynard, Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service director for Randall County said Tuesday that already the ASCS has paid farmers $613,538.98 under the disaster payment program.

This is a sharp increase over the $236,038 paid last year for failure in all crops.

Last year, the federal program paid $158,729 for feed grain losses here, $65,995 for wheat and $11,314 for cotton.

Wheat payments for this year will be completed about the end of October, Maynard said, but it will probably be the first of next year before payments in feed grain and cotton are completed.

The federal program compensates farmers for revenue lost from crop failures beyond the farmers' control.

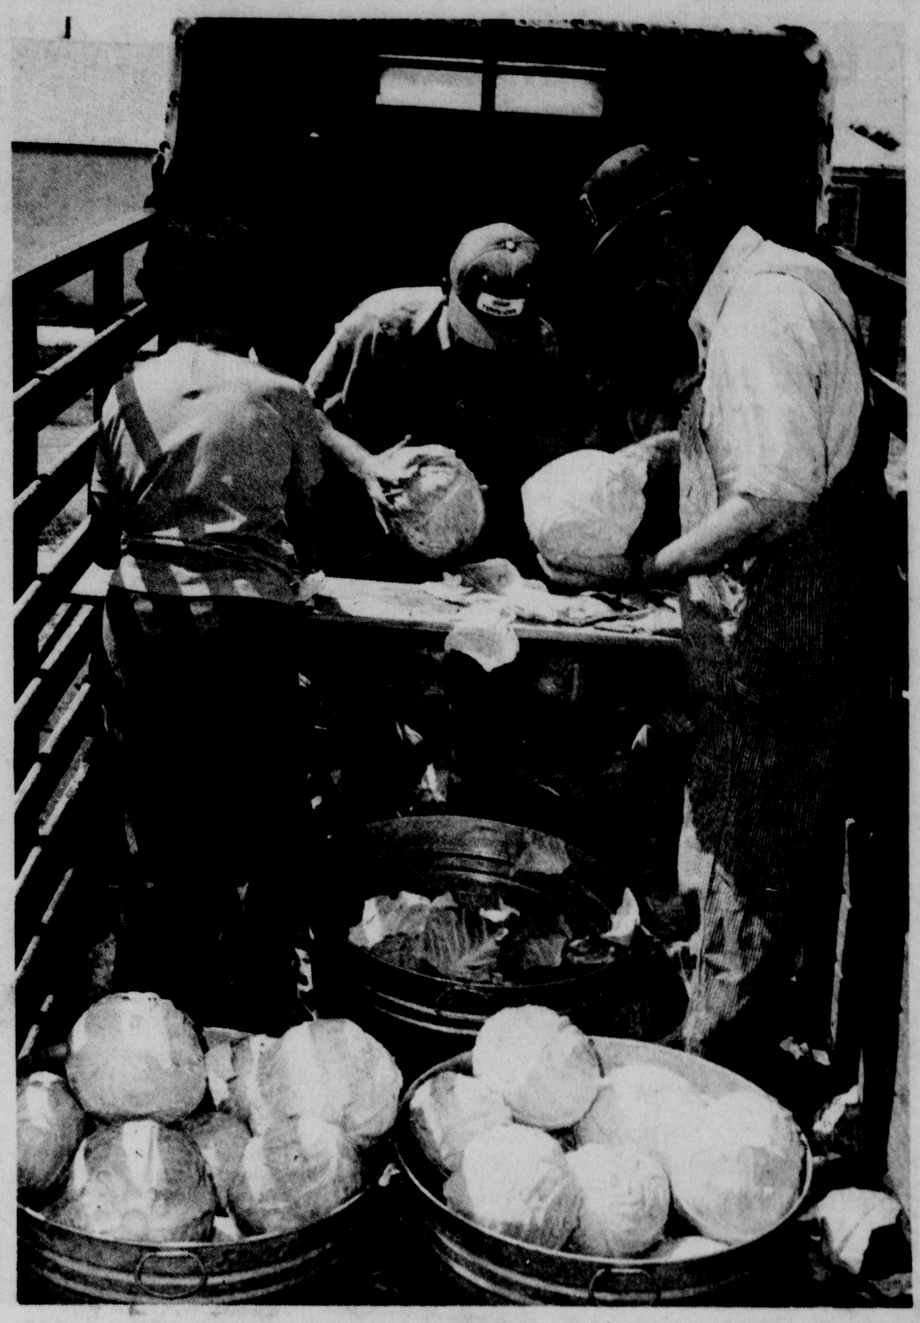

This year, the area has received less than half the normal rainfall. Since January, only ten and a half inches of moisture have been recorded here. The drought that began last fall has been virtually unbroken.

Maynard said that dryland wheat has been the hardest hit. It was so dry that some farmers didn't have enough moisture to even plant a crop.

Yields in the irrigated fields appear to be average or even above average, Maynard said.

But there are less fields under irrigation here than in the past, he said.

Maynard said it would be late winter before final payments for crop failures would be made.

From cabbage to 'kraut

Umbarger Community residents were cutting and salting fresh cabbage this week to make sauerkraut for the annual German Sausage Festival which the community has sponsored for a number of years. This year's festival has been set for November 14 and is open to all area residents.

Quibbling court puts off raises

County Judge Woody Pond Monday lost a part-time secretary and had proposed pay hikes for his office challenged Monday afternoon in a four-hour session of commissioners court fraught with quibbling.

Part-time secretary Sherrie O'Neal was reassigned from the county judge's office to the juvenile office. Juvenile Probation Officer Harold Mann complained that he could not get his secretarial work done through an arrangement under which he shared a part of the time of the part-time secretary.

Mann was Pond's assistant when Pond was county juvenile officer.

Commissioners hit a snag on setting salaries when it was discovered that some department heads had requested more than the six percent increase allocated each department by the court at its Sept. 3 meeting.

The court stipulated that the overall six percent could be used in granting raises at the discrepancy of the department head.

The district attorney's office and the district clerk's office exceeded the allocation in requesting salary hikes.

After discussing this for more than an hour, the court decided to postpone setting salaries until Administrative Assistant Carroll Wilson reworks some schedules.

Judge Pond reddened as Mann told the court he could not depend on getting his secretarial work done through the arrangement with the judge's office.

He asked Mann to step out in the hall with him. When they returned, they announced that the secretary would move to the juvenile office and work under the supervision of Mann returning as much as possible to the judge's office to help out there.

In other business the court agreed to enter into a contract with Kids Inc., for that group to furnish recreational services for Randall County youth for $7,700. Canyon Kids Inc., will be included.

The court also voted to provide $1,826 with like amounts to be provided by the city of Canyon and South Randall County Hospital District to put with a $8,520 grant for the purchase of an ambulance.

Metropolitan Ambulance Service has agreed to equip the ambulance and leave the equipment in it if the firm's contract for ambulance service with the three entities is ever negated.

A group of young farmers appeared before the court to seek its help in forming a noxious weed control district. They are primarily concerned with bindweed which they say poses a threat to county agriculture.

If the group can obtain 50 signatures of qualified people within the district the court is empowered to call an election on the forming of such a district.

The district would have the power to levy a 3-cent an acre tax

Buffs to meet Shockers

The West Texas State University football team will open their 1976 schedule at 7:30 p.m. this Saturday before an estimated crowd of 13,500 people at Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium against Wichita State, which beat the Buffs 13-7 last year.

"Big, tough, and scary," were the words Head Coach Gene Mayfield used to describe the week ahead.

Last year two WT fumbles deep in its own territory set up Shocker field goals that proved to be the winning margin. Quarterback Sam Adkins put the game out of reach with a one-yard plunge with just over four minutes remaining. WT avoided being shut out completely when Quarterback Tully Blanchard hit Halfback Robert Mayberry with a 26-yard pass with 1:21 left.

The Buffs will try to avenge last year's loss with an offense that returns eight starters and led the Valley in rushing offense in 1975. The West Texas State ground attack — which will be run by Quarterback Tully Blanchard with Halfbacks Robert Mayberry and Anthony Dogan and Fullback Bo Robinson in starring roles — averaged 344 yards on the ground during the final six games last year.

Wichita State will counter with an offense that gained 443 yards of total offense in its opener. Sam Adkins a 6-3, 214 pound senior All-American pick, is the boss hoss of this unit.

"Adkins seems better than ever," commented Mayfield. "He's completely on target with his passing, and he's avoiding the rush better."

Defensively for the Buffs Mayfield has stated, "We are just going to have to line up against Wichita State before we will know what we have. After we play for a quarter or two it will be easier to tell."

WT will start Randy Cook, a 6-2, 220 pound junior, George Henning, a 6-4, 250 pound junior, John Cota, a 6-3, 230 pound junior and Mike Roberts, a 6-2, 200 pound sophomore on the front line.

At the linebacker spots the Buffs will go with Jeff Nunn, a 6-2, 225 pound senior, Scott Braden, a 6-0, 215 pound sophomore and Larry Spears a 5-9, 185 pound junior.

Patrolling the secondary will be Bryan Carr, Mike Rychlik, Vic Hayes, and Tommy Mills.

Wichita State's defense allowed Northern Illinois only 231 total yards in their opener, which they won 21-0. The defense will be led by tackles Ted Vincent and Dennis Dedrick along with noseguard Clem Jankowski.

"On defense I am impressed with their overall play," said Mayfield. "Their two defensive tackles and the noseguard are excellent players. Their secondary is sound, and they just dominated NIU all night."

Gas cost charge at a standstill

A request for dismissal of a hearing asked by Pioneer Natural Gas before the Railroad Commission Tuesday probably puts the city right back where they started on the fuel adjustment clause.

Canyon joined with other cities this week to agree to a dismissal, city manager Glen Metcalf said.

The cities contended that the Railroad Commission had no jurisdiction to rule on the amount of gas cost pass through, he said, and the Railroad Commission agreed with them on that point.

Pioneer had sought the hearing to rule on the correctness of the firm's purchase methods for natural gas.

The cities "have no dispute with the correctness of the company's cost of gas as reflected by the contracts and exhibits submitted," according to a Pioneer statement.

Metcalf said the only dispute now is the amount of gas cost pass through.

"The amount is questionable," Metcalf said Wednesday. "Should they be able to pass every bit of the cost or whether they should absorb part of it. There should be an element of risk for the company," Metcalf said.

Metcalf also said that if Hereford, which has been fighting the gas pass through rate for months, takes further action now, the city will probably back them.

Wednesday, Hereford city manager Dudley Bayne said he did not know what the next move would be.

Hereford did not agree to a dismissal under the conditions Pioneer asked, he said. The hearing was continued Tuesday to another date, he said.

"We did not agree to a withdrawal under the terms they specified which was that the costs and contracts were correct," Bayne said. "We don't know if they are correct."

He said he saw the Pioneer request for a continuance as a face saving gesture on the company's part and expected Pioneer to withdraw its request of a hearing without any stipulations.

Bayne said he was still hoping to have Hereford pass an ordinance limiting the cost of gas pass through. Cities continue to have regulatory power over gas utilities, he said.

Dean House, guilty of theft, gets probation

Dean House, 39, 1707 Brookhaven, was given four years probation Friday and ordered to make restitution after pleading guilty to theft charges.

House, formerly a Canyon banker and civic leader, specifically was charged with theft of property over $10,000.

District Judge George Dowlen also fined House $400 and ordered him to pay off $25,000 at the rate of $539 a month.

District Attorney Randy Sherrod said charges against House arose over a fertilizer deal and an exchange of checks and money orders with a Kansas firm.

Sherrod said House is alleged to have received $27,500 from the Heiman Company of Wichita, Kan., for fertilizer. He said Heiman wired the money to the Bank of the Southwest in Amarillo for House.

The fertilizer was never delivered, according to the district attorney.

Sherrod said House used Heiman's money to cover insufficient checks at Dimmitt. Then on May 27, 1975, according to Sherrod, House gave Heiman a check for $27,500 which was returned marked insufficient funds.

Rowdy comedy to be staged

'Scapino', a rollicking comedy that recently ended a run on Broadway, will be staged next week at Canyon High School.

The rowdy fare is the first CHS production this year. Directed by Carroll Killingsworth, the play will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday in the high school auditorium.

J. P. Allen, a junior who has appeared frequently in CHS productions, plays the title role of Scapino and Royal Brantley, also a drama veteran, plays the co-starring role of Sylvestro.

Set on the water front of Naples, the comedy revolves around the trials brought to the two fathers by their sons.

The play was just released for amateur production last year.

Tickets will be 50 cents for elementary school students, $1 for junior high and high school students and $1.50 for adults.

New kindergarten gets good grade

The new, open kindergarten facilities got a good report card from teachers Monday night at Rex Reeves open house.

While there were a few D's — for disadvantages — the teachers overall gave the concept good marks.

There was some community criticism of the open classroom facility last spring and a church-sponsored kindergarten opened this fall partly to offer a conventional self-contained classroom.

The new facility, renovated by high school building trades classes last year, is housed in the rear wing of the school administration building, which was the old hospital building. This separates the kindergarten and early childhood development program from the rest of the Rex Reeves campus.

And this separation is one of the disadvantages, one teacher said.

"The main weakness is we don't have their regular PE and music teachers, so I know our program is not as strong there," said Mrs. Virginia Bonifield.

"Also, the children don't get to go to the library. Next year it's harder on them because it will all be so new."

The large room is divided by furniture and cardboard folding screens into several separate interest centers. Each of the three teachers has a place for separate

PTA may drop national ties

A committee to investigate the benefits of belonging to state and national PTA associations was appointed after discussion at the Rex Reeves PTA meeting Tuesday.

Dianna Cook was named chairman to review benefits and investigate the procedure needed to withdraw from state and national organizations. A report is due at the next meeting Oct. 11.

Members of the committee include Bob Parks, Mike D'Uva, Sandy Morgan and Sandra Wait.

Bulletin

Owens Corning Fiberglas Corporation Wednesday confirmed that it has reactivated engineering for its new plant in the Canyon area.

The sprawling plant, designed to house 500,000 square feet of floor space, is scheduled to go into production in 1979.

It initially will employ 500 people.

Stan Collins, public relations man for the industrial giant, made the announcement in a telephone call to The News early Wednesday afternoon.

Fowler Blauvelt, the firm's senior vice president, said the facility here is designed for expansion. He noted that it is engineered to permit growth to a capacity of 235 million pounds of fiberglas reinforcement per year.

A bad "odor" that you can't quite locate or identify is terribly frustrating!

Cablevision on its way here

After nearly two years of trying to fulfill FCC requirements, a cablevision system is on its way to Canyon.

Installation is expected to begin next month and completion is planned for the first of next year, owner T. D. Austin of Amarillo said Tuesday.

Austin first filed application for Cablevision of Canyon in November of 1974. It has taken since then to complete all the legal requirements for a system. He received his approval from the FCC in July.

The cable system will bring six television channels to residents within the Canyon city limits, Austin said.

In addition to the local network stations, channels 4, 7, and 10, the cable will bring Ft. Worth-Dallas channels 11, 13 and 39.

Channel 13 is the Public Broadcasting system channel and 11 and 39 are independent stations.

There will also be one channel available for local public school and WTSU use and one for community use, Austin said.

A weather scan and two FM radio frequencies are included, he said.

At least 90 per cent of the system will be installed during the first year. This stipulation is part of the franchise agreement with the city commission.

Monthly rates will be $7 for the first outlet and $1.50 for each additional outlet.

Austin asked that prospective customers mail in an application with their name, address and phone number for him to judge the likely response. His address is Cablevision of Canyon, Box 238, Canyon, 79015.

Tires taken in burglary

A burglary at Co-op Elevator No. 2 Sunday night netted $3,782 worth of tires.

The theft was discovered Monday morning by George R. Penn, an employee, who noticed a window ripped off. The window, covered with plywood, was torn into, according to police. The theft is believed to have occurred between 4 p.m. Sunday and 10:30 Monday morning.

Fingerprints and photographs were taken at the scene.

More frosh come to WT

Reversing a pattern set the last several years, freshman enrollment increased this fall at West Texas State University.

A total of 1819 enrolled as freshmen this semester, compared to 1793 last fall, according to figures compiled by WT registrar, Dr. Donald Cates.

For several years, freshman enrollment declined at WT, Cates said.

Enrollment of women was up this year also, Cates said.

A total of 3234 women signed up for classes this fall, compared to 3177 last year for a gain of 57 students.

At the same time, male enrollment dropped 195, from 3524 last fall to 3329 this semester. The male-female ratio is nearly 50-50.

City to join fight of phone rate hike

Canyon will join a Texas Municipal League attempt to intervene in the rate increase asked of the new Public Utilities Commission by Southwestern Bell.

A deadline for entering the case was Sept. 13. Commissioner J. Pat Stephens of Canyon, on the TML committee that will spearhead the fight, said Wednesday he has not heard yet if the cities will be allowed to participate.

The League now intends to assess member cities at three cents a person, based on 1970 population.

It is still doubtful whether the cities can intervene in the hearing, city manager Glen Metcalf said.

"The PUC has finally taken the power away from local governments," he said.

In a procedural rule adopted last month by the utility commission, the right to intervene is to be decided by the commission itself. This decision is set for Sept. 20.

Canyon and the other cities may end up spending time in court, Metcalf said, testing the legality of the rule itself.

The PUC is a new state regulatory body that became effective Sept. 1. The Southwestern Bell rate increase was filed the same day.

The increase amounts to almost $3 million and will, if approved, increase subscriber rates, intra-state long distance calls, pay phone tolls and institute a charge for directory assistance.

Exam registration set

High school juniors need to register now to take the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test (PSAT/NMSQT) in October.

Kenneth Ringo, CHS guidance counselor said the exam would be given here Oct. 19, in conjunction with testing throughout the nation. The exam will be given on that day only, he said.

The test is good practice for the Scholastic Aptitude Test required by most colleges for entrance, Ringo said. But, more importantly, the PSAT is the only preliminary test for National Merit Scholarship awards.

The test measures verbal and mathematical aptitude, two abilities important in doing college work.

Ringo said he has only about 60 tests and will need to order more if a large number of juniors register for the exam.

"If we know we're going to need more, we can order more tests. But if they wait until the last day to come up, they'll just be out of luck," he said.

About a dozen CHS juniors have signed up, he said. Test fee is $2.75.

Forage growth down

Forage production on native grassland at Buffalo Lake is down this year.

Compared with grass produced in 1975 production the lake range is down an average of 26 percent.

The Soil Conservation Service working with Paul Ferguson, refuge manager at Buffalo Lake, assisted with the grazing program.

Their conservation plan includes fencing and providing livestock water in six pastures or grazing units. The vegetation on the pastures is composed of spring and summer growing grasses native to the area. Their conservation plan calls for a six months deferment from April 1 through September 30th each year. The pastures are grazed each year from October 1 through March 30th.

The stocking rate for the six months grazing period is based on the actual amount of forage on the ground. Annually in September, the SCS assists Ferguson in inventorying forage production on the refuge grazing lands. This is done by clipping the grass on a square meter and weighing in grams and converting to pounds per acre. From this data Ferguson sets his stocking rate.

Ferguson has been recognized by the Palo Duro SWCD, the Soil Conservation Society of America, and the Society for Range Management for his excellent work in managing native plants.

Soil Conservation Service, district conservationist Bill Casteel suggests that ranchers in Randall County inventory their native grass production and try to balance the number of livestock with their grass production.

Bureau to conduct survey

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey in this area during the week of September 20-27, to determine the extent people have been immunized against selected diseases, Percy R. Millard, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Dallas, announced today.

The immunization survey is conducted throughout the U.S. every year and provides information on immunization against measles, influenza, polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, rubella, and mumps. The information is needed for administration of health programs geared to disease prevention. These health questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U. S. Department of Labor.

Personal information supplied in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.

Interviewers who will visit households in this area include: V. Dean Clancy of Amarillo and Frances M. Cheek of Amarillo.

Nan Yoder certified graphoanalyst, discusses handwriting analysis with two WT students. Dana Rogers and Glen Blanscet, both from Pampa, submitted samples which Mrs. Yoder analyzed.

Handwriting tells much

By BEVERLY McCARLEY

"Handwriting is brainwriting, it registers every impulse the brain has," according to Nan Yoder, certified graphoanalyst. "If you are going to be happy and productive, you have to take a gut level look at yourself."

Mrs. Yoder will be instructing a course in Graphoanalysis this fall at WTSU. The class is sponsored by the Student Activities Council.

Graphoanalysis is the study of the individual strokes of handwriting to determine character and personality of the writer. Through the formation of strokes, spacing of letters, pressure, slant and depth of writing, the trained observer can distinguish the spurious from the real.

According to Mrs. Yoder, Graphoanalysis is not pseudoscientific or of the occult. It is a scientific method of personality assessment based on research that was conducted over a period of more than 50 years. It has been tested through both empirical and clinical processes, and is currently being further validated by statistical studies, both within and without the framework of institutions of higher education.

Graphology, the study of lettering, began in the 1600s in Europe. It was accepted first in America as a game or joke. Seventy years ago, M. N. Bunker established a theory of studying handwriting based on his findings that no students wrote alike. From this theory and the ideas of one man, the International Graphoanalysis Society in Chicago, Ill. was established. Today, this institute is the only school which certifies graphoanalysts.

Mrs. Yoder has been a certified graphoanalyst for nine years. She said that she began taking correspondence courses from the society to learn more about herself. Today, she does private analysis for persons. She has taught three courses at Amarillo College and will be teaching at AC and WTSU this fall.

Mrs. Yoder became a certified Question Document Examiner for criminal court proceedings on forgery last November. She has participated in the Amarillo court system in several such cases.

In personal analysis, Mrs. Yoder says that she prefers to deal with good points and character strengths of her clients. People do not focus on their positive points, rather they are pessimistic about themselves, according to Mrs. Yoder.

Mrs. Yoder feels that handwriting is more personal than fingerprints because it cannot be altered. Handwriting can disclose honesty or deceit, pride or sloth, will power or lack of it, conservatism or wastefulness, and potential, but not necessarily, performance.

Employers use graphoanalysis for successful employment of and proper placement of personnel in business and industry. Mrs. Yoder has conducted seminars for credit executives, consisting of presidents of national companies and credit managers from across the nation. She has spoken to civic groups on the study of handwriting and what it reveals.

In general, more women of all ages than men of all ages are more receptive to the concept of handwriting study, according to Mrs. Yoder. "Young people seem tremendously interested in knowing more about themselves."

Mrs. Yoder's course instructions will be Tuesday nights from 7-9 p.m. in the Activities Center. The classes will be held for 10 weeks. Canyon residents are invited to enroll for the course. The fee for the instructions will be $30 for local residents and $28 for WT students.

Enrollment will begin this week at the information desk in the Activities Center.

NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (S.J.R. 49)

Repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution, S.J.R. 49 amends Section 49-c of Article III of the Texas Constitution to provide for and authorize an additional $400 million in Texas water development bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the members of each house of the Legislature for such water development purposes as the Legislature may prescribe.

The amendment contains a specific prohibition against the use of state funds for the development of water resources from the Mississippi River and also requires that before any single water development project may be undertaken requiring the expenditure of more than $35 million in bond proceeds, it must be approved by resolution of the Legislature.

The amendment removes the constitutional requirement that certain revenues must be used to retire water development and water quality enhancement bonds and removes the constitutional interest rate limit on such bonds.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing an increase of $400 million in the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the legislature; amending and consolidating provisions of Sections 49-c, 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution; and repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution."

NUMBER TWO ON THE BALLOT (H.J.R. 99)

H.J.R. 99 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to increase from $100 million to $200 million the aggregate principle amount of Texas water development bonds which may be issued and outstanding by the Texas Water Development Board to provide grants and loans for water quality enhancement purposes as established by the Legislature.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"A constitutional amendment to increase from $100 million to $200 million the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued for water quality enhancement purposes."

Federal money scarce locally

Federal money doesn't jingle very loudly here.

Slightly more than one fourth of the total state government revenues are received from the federal government, a study on the impact of federal aid on state and local governments prepared by Bob Bullock's comptroller staff found.

But locally, federal funds make up a very minor part of governmental funding.

Revenue sharing, one of the most popular of the federal programs with local officials, has built two public buildings here.

The Randall County annex and the city complex were both funded out of revenue sharing receipts.

This program, which is ending in December, gave $211,147 to the city under a five year program.

Refunding the revenue sharing program is under discussion in Congress.

Much of the federal revenue comes into the county in disguise. Many of the grants are regional and while the city and county benefit, the rest of the Panhandle does also.

"We benefit every day," city manager Glen Metcalf said. He pointed out that the new ambulance to be shared in the county will be purchased primarily with federal money. Law enforcement equipment and radios have been funded by federal grants. Water treatment and sewer construction have been built with federal grants.

A grant received last spring paid for two and a half blocks of street paving, with the city picking up the tab for the remaining half block.

The city is now completing application for federal and state money for the parks program.

The county government taps federal funds even less.

Manpower money, designed to help students earn money for college, has been largely unspent here the last three summers.

There have always been more Manpower jobs available than there are applicants.

About $30,000 in various state and federal programs has been included in next year's county budget for salary assistance, county auditor Bill Tirey said. For example, the investigator for the district attorney's office is paid with federal funds.

The schools receive a somewhat larger portion of revenue from the federal purse than local governments do.

Various federal programs will add about $65,716 to the school income next year. This money pays for a variety of activities, such as grant to set up an honors program for high school seniors begun here this year.

This is a drop from last year of $76,494 in federal funds.

In addition, the schools receive about $4,000 each month to offset cafeteria costs.

Farmers as a group received the largest hunk of federal money. Last year payments for crop losses amounted to $236,038 and $48,147.38 was added for cost sharing in conservation projects.

This year, the U.S. Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service expects to pay more than $2 million in disaster payments to farmers here.

on farm land within the district to finance district activities. Officials of the district would have enforcement power.

"We halfway represent these people," declared Commissioner Dee Griffin, expressing concern.

"What do you mean halfway?" Judge Pond rejoined.

"Well, we do represent them," said Griffin somewhat weakly.

This exchange set the tenor of the afternoon with barbs being passed between the judge and Griffin and John Fulgenzi, GOP members of the court.

The court heard a somewhat unfavorable report on City Fire Inspector Jerry Lehnick's inspection of the courthouse.

The top priority discrepancies can be corrected in a week, according to Wilson. "I'll get the janitor right on them," he declared.

Wilson told the court that Heritage Woman's Club voted 16-0 in favor of a proposition that Randall County join with other entities in construction of a detention facility for status offenders.

As of next September, such offenders — juveniles — can no longer be jailed. Wilson and Judge Pond were instructed to investigate the matter.

Wilson was instructed to write a legislative proposal for a 1 percent sales tax for unincorporated county areas and another proposal for the same county tax for the entire county. Commissioners see the sales tax as a means of alleviating ad valorem tax.

Joint purchasing with other entities was discussed briefly. Wilson said he thinks some money can be saved in this manner.

The court voted to join the National Association of Counties with dues of $675 a year.

Enrollment. .

Cates said. There are 3329 male students enrolled this year and 3234 female students.

Last fall, males outnumbered females by 347 students.

Enrollment of sophomores dropped 77 students to 1073 this year. Junior class enrollment totaled 1254, only two students above last year's figure.

And senior enrollment declined 60 students to total 1273 this year.

The graduate school also lost students, dropping from 1204 last fall to 1144 this year.

Total enrollment this fall is 6564 compared to 6701 last year.

Cates pointed out that the differences in enrollment in the last two years is slight and that drawing any conclusions from the numbers would be invalid.

"About the only thing you can say looking at those figures is that the freshman enrollment is up and we have more women this year," he said.

Cates said the decline in graduate enrollment was expected because GI Bill benefits for the so-called Cold War Veterans expired this June.

activities with her own class.

The room arrangement, however, places two of the classes very close to each other.

"Peggy and I are down here in this corner," Mrs. Linda Kay Baker said.

By scheduling indoor and outdoor activities, they can avoid interferring with each other, she said, but wider spacing would help.

Another classroom is being prepared in the old hospital building and one of the classes will probably be shifted there, curriculum director Vondean McGregor said.

Mrs. McGregor said she is delighted with the new facility.

"This is one of the showplaces of the Panhandle," she said.

The room is light, colorful, well-equipped and beautifully decorated.

Many of the problems expected by the teachers failed to materialize.

"I thought there would be more confusion than there is, Mrs. Bonifield said. "The children have learned the rules what they can and can't do, very quickly."

Because of the large number of students, discipline has had to be more structured this year, Mrs. Peggy Trosper told the parents.

"We have had to be stricter than we would have been in the self-contained classroom," she said.

With about 82 students in the room at the same time, the teachers have had to insist on less noise, replacing materials after they are used, keeping chairs pushed under tables and other rules to keep the place orderly.

The children have accepted the rules very well, she said.

Mrs. Trosper said the room has drawbacks for an easily distracted child.

"For the easily distracted child, it's not easy. But it's real good for the child that is not easily distracted because he learns to tune out all the other noise," she said.

The room is ideal for large group activities, the teachers said. The window shades make films shown to the classes much easier to see, they said.

"Before, we'd try to squeeze all three classes into one room and kids would be sitting jammed up against the walls and some of the windows weren't shaded," Mrs. Baker said. Because films are used several times a week, the new facilities are important pluses.

Like the rest of Rex Reeves, the kindergarten is crowded. Classes have from 26-28 students, well over the normal 21 per classroom.

A day at kindergarten begins with free play time, Mrs. Trosper told the parents.

"If you walk in on us, you might think it is just a big mess, but it does have its purpose," she explained.

Next, the youngsters separate into their different circles for roll call, the pledge of allegiance and games.

They have several periods for math, language or PE and also have an outside playground time.

Tie breaker . . .

Eagles battle Caprock for tied season tilt

The Canyon High School football team, which is now 1-1 on the year, will play their third game of the season at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow night at Dick Bivins Stadium against Amarillo Caprock.

"Our workout Monday wasn't as good as our workout last Monday if that is any indication as to how we are going to play," said Head Coach Deane Wright. "We worked out hard last Monday with a lot of spirit and played well last Friday night. We worked out poorly this Monday with very little spirit. I don't know if that is any indication or not, I hope we will get ready to play."

The Eagles are coming off an impressive 26-6 thrashing of Floydada in which they rolled up 382 yards on the ground and gained 28 first downs.

Caprock fared equally as well last week drubbing El Paso Andress 30-8.

"I think defensively they will be stronger than Lubbock Monterey but offensively they are not as versatile and I don't think they can do as many things as well as Monterey," commented Wright in reference to the other AAAA team the Eagles have faced.

"They do have a real fine fullback in Dennis Skelton and they do have a good runner in their tailback Johnny Lozano. He is not a sprinter but he does have speed. He is probably faster than Gary Ward. He is a fine open field runner and a pass catcher; they will throw the ball to him some."

Sketlon and Lozano combined for three touchdowns in the Andress victory with Skelton scoring on a 65 yard trot and Lozano running for scores of 41 and 9 yards.

"They are bigger than us," continued Wright. "They are not substantially bigger but probably overall they are bigger. We are going to have a hard time defensing them, I really am concerned about our defense.

"We are going to play them just like Floydada," summerized the head coach. "We will try to establish a running game and throw when we can."

Kenya-Amarillo combo

A Kenya-Amarillo punch in any sport at any place would seem as uncommon as Ronald Reagan running for president on the Communist ticket, but that is just what West Texas State University cross-country coach Bob Kitchens will be going with when his runners travel to Plainview to compete in the Wayland Baptist College Invitation to be held Sept. 16.

Three of Kitchens runners — John Chemaringo, Gabriel Boit and Joseph Kemei — hail from the distant country of Kenya while the other two — Bert Torres and Gary Thomas — have their homes just a jog down the Canyon E-Way in Amarillo.

"We are very pleased with the people we have on the cross country team even though they only number five," said Kitchens.

"This is an awful slim cross-country team depth wise but quality-wise it is very deep."

In view of his Kenyan representatives Kitchens says, "Joe and John are expected to have a great year. Gabriel has never run cross country before but we know he has quite a bit of talent and he will help us out a lot.

As for the home preppers he converses, "Bert Torres, a freshman from Amarillo Caprock has really been doing a terrific job for us in workouts and hope he can do just as well in the meets because he has really looked good. Gary Thomas is in his third year with us and even though he is really a quarter-miler we expect him to help out too."

Kitchens trump card will once more be ace Joseph Kemei who has won countless honors over the years and is gearing up for his third year of competition.

"I think Joe expects to have a great year," commented Kitchens. "In the past he has had some ups and downs and some physical ailments and he is really looking forward to this year."

Football nursery open for WT games

A football nursery is being provided at the First United Methodist Church for anyone of the community desiring to have children cared for during home games of the West Texas State University football team.

The nursery opens 45 minutes previous to game-time and remains open for 45 minutes following the game. For more information about fees, etc, contact Mrs. Walter Kirkpatrick, 655-3180, nursery director.

Fair not only for 'kids'

By
FARRIS ANN MORRISON

NEXT WEEK IS the Fair, and I guess I look forward to it just as the kids do. Being a part of the preparation increases my enthusiasm, seeing all the lovely painted porcelain I'm in charge of, very CAREFULLY in charge of.

Come by and see our exhibit in the corner of the Commercial Building. We have some very talented artists in this area, and china painting is not one of the more usual of familiar art forms.

* * *

BEFORE I GET started on the Gene Howe news itself, Ernestine Harp, secretary at the school, sends a plea for help as some of the working mothers need sitters for their children after school.

If you can help, call Ernestine during school hours, please.

HERE ARE SOME more new families to the district, several from Amarillo, and we welcome them: Ruel and Mary Leveridge from Amarillo, Kenneth is in the sixth grade; Dick and Theresa Carthy come from Lakewood, Colorado, with Michael (second grade) and Angel (third); Norman and Alma Cunningham from Spartanburg, South Carolina, John is in the third, Shanda in the sixth. Ted and Celia Fancher are from Amarillo, daughter Andrea, a third grader; also from Amarillo are Michael and Donna James, Michael (son) is a third grader. Hoyt and Pat Lawson and Tracey, in the third grade are from Parker, South Dakota. Their daughter Michelle is a first grader. Roy and Glory Jones moved here from Gastonia, North Carolina with Ginger, in the first grade. From Pinellas, Florida are Randall and Barbara Simpson; son Jason is in the first grade.

* * *

CARL FARMER, 12, BROKE his arm this summer while riding horseback in Cushing, Oklahoma. It is now out of the cast, thank goodness. This is nothing new for Carl; Karolyn told me not only was this the second go-round for that arm, but the other arm has been broken, as well as a knuckle. Hang in there, Carl!

* * *

CLAUDIA CALL, A librarian at Ridgecrest, trimmed a plant and herself recently. She suffered a severe cut, but is doing fine now.

MARGARET DAVIS IS Gene Howe's bulwark as far as Girl Scouts go. Last weekend her girls (troop 113) were at Camp Kiwanis. The girls attending were Tammy Wilcox, Tonya Thompson, Denise Morgan, Paula Bennett, Shellie Camouse, Marlo Pruitt, and Connie Hornsby. Margaret was aided by Mary Wilcox, Verna Davis, and two Senior Scouts, Sherry Manning and Clair Davis.

Besides the usual hiking and cook-outs, each girl painted a T-shirt with liquid embroidery paints. On Sunday, church services were held by the girls themselves.

Tuesday, the 4th, 5th, and 6th grade Girl Scouts will begin work on their own troop badge.

Each troop can set up its own requirements for one badge. These girls chose bowling and will be at Western Bowl after school "rolling a few".

* * *

A PLAYGROUND CASUALTY: David Ray has a broken arm, but is doing fine, considering.

* * *

MRS. MILLER HAS a student teacher, Dorinda Newton; Mr. Lawless has an "intern" principal, Jim Davison. While I was in the workroom today, he was repairing the duplicating machine, so he's made to feel at home!

* * *

MARK McGILL, GLORIA McGill's son, was married Friday, Sept. 10, in a home wedding. His bride is Rhonda Sims of Amarillo.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. Jim Martin are new to our area from Lufkin. Their daughter Christi is in the first grade and son Mike in kindergarten.

PTA AREA COUNCIL met Monday. Of interest to all of us is the Clothing Room.

Two facets we can participate in are (1) if you know of any family who can use this service, please contact Dot Ford or Mr. Lawless at the school. (2) if you have donations to make, contact Jewel Brown at the Amarillo School Administration Building.

Every type of clothing is needed, especially coats, sweaters, even underwear. Troyce Mulherin can also fill you in, as this is her particular job on the Council board.

HAVE A GOOD week.

Don't forget the PTA open house at Gene Howe, September 27, 7 p.m., and October 11, 7 p.m. Grade levels for each night will be announced next week.

Baze baby boy arrives

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Baze of 514 W. 7th in Amarillo, announce the Sept. 8 birth of a son, Jeremy Linn, at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The baby weighed 8 pounds, 5 ounces at birth and measured 21 inches in length.

The father is a self employed construction worker and former owner of Baze Bookbinding.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Cardin Wilkins of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Rentfro of Van Nuys, Calif.

Square dancers having lessons

Canyon Capers Squaredance club met Monday evening for their regular dance at the Bull Barn.

Randy Costley did his usual fine job of calling. He had called a dance at Panhandle last Saturday night.

The new square dance students are progressing very well on their lessons.

The club dances every Monday at 8:30 p.m. and visitors are always welcome.

Highways film for Lion group

"Texas Highways — in Trouble?" was the title for a film program presented for Canyon Evening Lions Club Monday evening.

The informative program was presented by representatives of the Texas Highway Department and demonstrated the need for additional future funding to keep highways of the state in repair and under construction as presently planned.

Kozars have infant son

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Kozar of 1607 N. Fairfield, Amarillo, announce the Sept. 8 birth of a son, Travis, at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The baby boy weighed 8 pounds, 2½ ounces and measured 21 inches at birth. He has an older brother, Jason, age 4.

4-H

Annual "fair" time nearing for 4-H youths of county

By PAUL SAMMONS
Assistant County Agent

The big thing coming up will be the Tri-State Fair, Sept. 20-25.

We have 18 steers, one heifer, two barrows, two lambs, and seven capons. I am real pleased with the number of entries and am looking forward to a fun and working week.

* * *

We had quite a lengthy 4-H Adult Leaders and Council meeting on August 26.

The Randall County 4-H Achievement Banquet was set for Oct. 7, 1976 and guest speaker will be Bedford Forrest.

The 4-H leaders and council heard a report from Greg Hinders on the State 4-H Congress held in Austin; leader training at Brownwood; National 4-H club week Oct. 3-9, 1976; writing method demonstrations; and report on the 4-H livestock feeders from Mrs. Lee Osborn.

The 4-H Adult Leaders will be meeting quarterly on every 3rd Thursday at 7:30 p.m. All leaders and parent-leaders are urged to attend these meetings. There were 20 present for the August 26 meeting.

* * *

Mrs. Wendell Trammell is fixing to lead a project many of your 4-Hers might be interested in. She wants to take a project group to help beautify the Community Center here in Canyon.

I feel this will be an excellent opportunity to get involved in a community project.

I urge all of you to take part in this excellent program. Contact Mrs. Wendell Trammell for any further details.

Dr. John McNeill, area beef cattle specialist, will be here Oct. 1, 1976, to visit on the steer and heifer projects.

As you probably know Dr. McNeill is a widely noted steer judge and a super asset to you steer and heifer feeders. I am quite proud to have access to the advice and knowledge of Dr. McNeill at the local level.

* * *

Steer feeders, I hope you have your "neck ropes," feeding and watering from pans and buckets; one mile exercise per day, washing once a week, and have been tying your steers up to get them used to it. This isn't busy work, it will help you at the fair.

Have a nice week!
